CHRIS BARBER NEWSLETTER NOV 26TH 1986

For the benefit of those who have become subscribers since the last newsletter, there are still two remaining dates of those that were listed at that time. They are Cricklade Theatre, ANDOVER, Hants on Saturday November 29th., and Churchill Theatre, BROMLEY, Kent on Sunday November 30th.. The next run of dates commences on December 7th. and the date sheet is enclosed.

At the time of writing, the BIRMINGHAM concert on December 21st. seems destined to sell out and there are only a few standing places remaining. We gave considerable advance notice of this popular annual event so here is an even earlier warning! The 1987 concert at The Birmingham Repertory Theatre will take place on December 20th..

The Band is provisionally scheduled to appear on The Pamela Armstrong Show (BBC2) on December 17th. but this has not been finally confirmed at the time of writing. There is no 'live' concert arranged for that date and if the TV Show does not materialise, then they will be recording further tracks for the next album.

The current album, 'Music From The Land of Dreams' has been temporarily out of stock and is into a second pressing. The distributors, PRT, will have new stocks to cater for orders placed through record shops over the Christmas period. It is hoped, however, that there will be sufficient supplies available at the December concerts.

Chris Barber records a programme in the Radio 2 series 'Sounds of The Sixties' for transmission on the Saturday morning series early in the new year.
